DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 8, line 14, the wrong number references the "control system".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 3, 5, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Barwick, Jr. (5,766,146). Barwick discloses a method of controlling fluid flow to and from an eye during ophthalmic surgery comprising the steps of introducing irrigation fluid into an eye and determining the initial irrigation fluid pressure (claim 1 and Figure 3), adjusting the maximum vacuum setting based on the initial irrigation fluid pressure, continuously determining the irrigation fluid pressure after the initial determination (Stage 2 and 3 of Figure 3), and continuously adjusting the maximum vacuum setting based on the continuous determination of the irrigation fluid pressure. The vacuum must be adjusted in the transition from Stage 1 to Stage 3.

In regards to claims 5 and 23, Barwick discloses a method that includes all of the limitations as recited in claim 3 wherein the step of initially determining irrigation fluid pressure includes determining the in-line pressure of irrigation line (94) and further comprising using a change in irrigation pressure to provide an indication of wound leaking (claim 1).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 3 and 5 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 2 and 5 of U.S. Patent No. 7,018,355. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the step of “adjusting maximum vacuum setting” is substantially the same step as “adjusting aspiration fluid flow”.

Claims 3, 5, and 23 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3, and 8 of U.S. Patent No. 6,899,694. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the steps recited in the patent and not in the instant application are obvious steps of phacoemulsification.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
